

The Third Valley

Soldiers become spies, old enemies become friends. This was the politically gray world of Southeast Asia in the sixties. General Al Houer sends a team into harms way on a mission requiring military and CIA skills, led by Major ETS (Eagle That Soars) and Captain Mark Wilson, both Special Forces veterans of the African Congo uprising of 64, the 1968 Tet offensive and the controversial Phoenix Program. Neither had yet turned 30. Now as civilians, they are sent to find the Thai war lord, White Horse. The volatile mix of soldiers, politicians, spies, prisoners of war and criminals explodes in the poppy fields. Only the big spook, Colonel William B. Booth has a chance to extract the team before the Thai government blows up The Third Valley.
