

The Lidek Revolution

In 2009, Victor Helliwell invents a new lie-detector, the LieDeck, that works by voice analysis. It is infallible, and lying becomes technologically impossible in a world where the average person tells 200 lies a day! The device puts an end to crime, but politics, business and all personal relationships are thrown into chaos. Victor thinks that the death of illusion will force humankind into a new and superior consciousness. However, the unraveling of society is unavoidable, and his agenda is lost at least for now.
