

Untold Truth

Jane read the words again, hoping she had mistaken their meaning. I know what you've been hiding. The past is catching up with you. It has been ten years since Joe's death and it is time to give up your secret. Watch out for the signs and messages I will give you. It will be your choice whether you act on them, but if you don't, your future will remain unfulfilled. I will be in touch again. M There was no mistake. People live their lives by what they believe, But what if, What they believe isn't true? At Joe's funeral, Jane had smiled, believing her secret was safe, but 10 years on, an anonymous letter on her desk brings back her fears of her secret being exposed. At the pinnacle of her career as a partner in what is predominately a man's business, she believes she will be ruined. Her search to find the person behind the letter leads her to a spiritual teacher, and Mark. Mark has also received a letter; he also has a secret. Jane must trust him if they are to work together. Their actions expose an untold truth that, if believed, will change their lives.
